

I've spent over a decade turning dangerous thinking into a KPI and engineering the systems that make it repeatable. I've directed global campaigns for Qualcomm, Audi, Samsung, T-Mobile and more — spanning video, animation, photography, product design, shopper marketing, and sales enablement — earning Gold Addys, a Marcom Award, and recognition in Lürzer's Archive along the way. I work directly with CEOs and agency leadership to build creative infrastructure, streamline operations, and define department structures that free thinkers to think and makers to make.

EXPERIENCE

Associate Creative Director

DEC 2024 - NOW

Transmission Agency

I operate at CD level across a portfolio of global tech brands with full creative ownership of key accounts, boosting recommendations by 29.4%, brand preference by 60%, and branded attention by 158% over average. I've directed photoshoots, award-winning video productions, built the agency's intake system, and introduced workflows that standardized quality across the agency. I work with executive leadership beyond my title to build the agency structure and operation plans.

Design Director

OCT 2022 - NOV 2024

Pathfinder Studios

I partnered directly with the CEO to lead creative strategy, UX, and brand execution across websites, SaaS products, and agency initiatives. I managed cross-functional teams, drove business development, and translated complex systems into elegant experiences, often serving as the primary client lead and interim product partner.

Senior Art Director

OCT 2020 - OCT 2022

Transmission Agency

I led award-winning campaigns for global tech brands. I shaped creative culture, rebuilt agency workflows, partnered on executive-level strategy, and delivered international digital campaigns consistently exceeding deadlines, driving upsells, and strengthening cross-agency collaboration.
